

AVERAGE SWORN NET PAID

CIRCULATION NOVEMBER

DAILY 40,107

SUNDAY 45,107

VOL. XVII, NO. 62

TULSA, OKLAHOMA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1922

20 PAGES

PRICE 5 CENTS

TULSA DAILY WORLD

FINAL EDITION

KING WOULD SEEK SEVER'S SUSPENSION

JUDGE WILL CALL SPECIAL SESSION TO TRY GOVERNOR

Adjournment of Pontotoc Court by Bolen Won't Delay Bribe Trial

DEFENSE MAN OBJECTS

One of Robertson's Attorneys Says Judge Hasn't Authority to Convene Court

STANDING FEUD RENEWED

Hepburn Sees New Attempt at Delay; Lydick Answers Him by Use of Ridicule

By the Associated Press.

OKMULGEE, Dec. 1.—I had two reasons for adjourning court here this afternoon. The first is that I wanted to protect the sovereignty of this judicial district. The second is that I have a great deal of evidence that the Ku-Klux Klan is organizing a jury here for the governor's case.

That was the statement made tonight to the Okmulgee Daily Times by Judge J. W. Bolen of Ada, who this afternoon adjourned his court sine die, despite the fact that the bribery case of J. B. A. Robertson was set down for trial on December 12.

Judge Bolen told the Times that both the governor's attorneys and Mr. Hepburn desired him to do so, he himself would call a special term of court regardless of what Judge came to Ada to try the case. He said that it was made clear that he holds Judge Edwards in the highest regard, and that his protest merely was against the "attack on the sovereignty of this judicial district."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 1.—The trial of Gov. J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma on a charge of accepting a bribe, will open at Ada on December 12, as originally scheduled, despite the action of Judge J. W. Bolen today in adjourning the Pontotoc county district court until next April.

Chief Justice John B. Harrison of the state supreme court tonight when advised of the adjournment of the court in which the governor is to be tried, immediately ordered Special Judge Thomas A. Edwards, who is assigned to hear the governor's trial, to proceed to Ada and convene the Pontotoc county district court in special session.

The chief justice said that Judge Edwards had full authority under orders issued to him to convene the court.

A jury venire has been made returnable in the Ada court on December 12 for the governor's trial. Chief Justice Harrison said, adding that the case had been set for that date upon agreement of the parties. He referred to Judge Bolen's action as "the attempted order adjourning the entire court session," and said it would be without effect.

CORDELL, Dec. 1.—Judge Thomas A. Edwards of Cordell said tonight that he probably would be in Ada tomorrow to convene the Pontotoc county court in special session in preparation for the trial of Gov. J. B. A. Robertson. Judge Edwards said that he had received instructions from Chief Justice Harrison of the state supreme court to call the court in special session. He said that the governor's trial would begin on December 12, as scheduled, unless for some reason a continuance was granted.

OKMULGEE, Dec. 1.—John Crawford of Ada, counsel for the governor, tonight stated that in his opinion Judge Thomas A. Edwards of Cordell who tomorrow will call a special term of district court in that city, has no authority to do so despite the order of Chief Justice Harrison under which he will call the term. Crawford declared the law states that the "retaining judge" shall have the authority to call the special term, and that none other has authority to act.

OKMULGEE, Dec. 1.—James Hepburn, county attorney, tonight branded Judge Bolen's action in adjourning court at Ada as another attempt of the governor to delay his trial.

"That bunch was demanding a speedy trial before the press gallery at Ada last Monday. This shows

CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT

19 More Shopping Days Until Christmas

Help Fight Tuberculosis Buy Christmas Seals

FOR HEALTH

Mail Packages NOW Write Plainly

Tiernan Insane, Relative Claims; Demands a Test

Professor Sells Out Household Goods; Accepts Contract to Make Lecture Tour

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—A test to determine the sanity of John P. Tiernan, former Notre Dame university law instructor, was ordered tonight by County Judge Higheimer, on the petition of Mrs. Frances Pulaski, sister of Mrs. Tiernan.

Upon a statement made by Dr. James W. Hall, alienist, that Tiernan was mentally unsound, and the charge made by Mrs. Pulaski that the professor had "hypnotized" his wife and "prevented her from carrying out her own will," Judge Higheimer signed papers for Tiernan's commitment to a psychiatric hospital for observation. Deputies were then sent to search for Tiernan who came to Chicago today with his wife following the auctioning off of their household effects in South Bend.

Professor Tiernan recently returned to the wife from whom he had been granted a divorce as a result of the voiding of the decree after he had married a second wife at Crown Point, Ind.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 1.—John Tiernan, figure in the sensational paternal and divorce suits and a much-advertised second marriage, today accepted a lecture contract with the Preston lecture agency of New York. His subject, it was understood, is to be "Tiernan and Emotions," and his fee $200 per week.

CHINESE DRAGON HOISTED AT PEKIN

Elaborate Imperial Ceremonies Mark Nuptials of "the Emperor"

AN EMPRESS BY EDICT

Elizabeth Contracts Cold, but Is Glad She's Married to Man She's Never Seen

By THOMAS MELOY, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

PEKIN, Dec. 1.—As a courtesy from republican China, the dragon flag flew over the Forbidden City today for the first time since the abortive monarchial coup of 1917.

This was the emperor's wedding day. Ceremonies of age-old origin began yesterday.

The first of interesting ceremonies was the formal issuing by the emperor of an imperial edict creating a new princeling, Prince Hsiao.

The emperor signed the decree written on gold parchment and following a palace ceremony at which the emperor appeared in an antirain, mounted the document was carried by the highest Manchu princess to the family residence of Princess Kuochiash.

Much Elaborate Kowtowing. There the princess, clad in a magnificent imperial yellow satin phoenix robe, awaited the coming of the edict that made her the wife of the ruler and empress without a country.

As the princess entered her presence bearing the imperial edict, the emperor, who had been seated on a throne, arose and kowtowed three times. Thereafter all of the princess prostrated themselves before him signifying that she had in fact become the wife of the emperor—who she has never seen.

The palace has been surrounded with dense crowds since early yesterday with thousands anxious to pay honor to their former emperor. The Chinese wedding ceremonies commencing the marriage were continued in paying the honor due the emperor.

Chang Tso-lin, Wu Pei Fu and all high officials of China sent valuable presents to the palace in honor of the occasion, but because of their position in the republic, were excused from kowtowing.

The young emperor's pleasant and independent personality together with today's event has greatly endeared him to the people. He has installed many modern innovations at the palace.

It is understood to have been his wish that the young princess and empress-to-be be his tutor in English. Incidentally, she learned to play tennis, make fudge and ride a bicycle, from Miss Isabel Graham, Wellesley graduate, her tutor.

Sometimes called the emperor, who speaks excellent English, issued an edict naming himself Henry, and his empress, Elizabeth, after British royalty.

Wedding at 3:45 A. M. The wedding took place at exactly 3:45 o'clock this morning. The em-

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWELVE.

Name buyers are asked when titles are guaranteed and deals closed by Title Guarantee & Trust Co.—Advertisement.

KELLER RE-OPENS DAUGHERTY CASE; TAFT TO TESTIFY

Former President Was Deceived by Daugherty, Keller Charges

IRREGULARITIES CITED

Long List of Complaints Made Against Attorney General With House Judiciary

CAN PROVE CLAIM, HE SAYS

Violations of Oath of Office and "High Crimes" in Fourteen Instances Listed

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Chief Justice Taft was named today in a statement to the house judiciary committee by Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, as a witness to be called in support of his demand for the impeachment of Attorney-General Daugherty.

The chief justice was desired to testify, Mr. Keller wrote, in connection with his charge formally filed that Daugherty was "untrustworthy, corrupt and dangerous man" to high office, knowing at the time they were men of such character. George Wickersham, former attorney-general; Sam Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Guy Q. Taylor, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, were mentioned by Mr. Keller as other witnesses he would ask the committee to summon as to this particular allegation.

Regarding the committee request that he give the names of all persons who could testify as to any of the charges on which he based a demand for impeachment, Mr. Keller wrote that he would not comply except in certain particulars as he and his advisers regard as safe.

Setting forth 14 specific grounds for impeachment, Mr. Keller alleged that Mr. Daugherty had practiced "fraud and deceit" on Mr. Taft while president, to obtain the release from prison of Charles W. Morse, and that on Morse's failure to pay Daugherty's associates in the pardon proceedings an agreed fee he "procured" the office of attorney-general for "personal revenge."

Following 2-Week Campaign. Simultaneously another squad conducted a raid on a shop near the Hip Sing headquarters, where over four prisoners and quantities of drugs, for five weeks detectives, assuming the garb of celestials, lived in Chinatown, anticipating reprisals for the death of Kolo, national president of the Hip Sing tong, who was shot in the doorway of the Chinese Delmonico's last August.

They noted that Lee Yee Hong, state president of the Hip Sing tong, never went alone, for wherever he appeared, two other Chinese were beside him; that the door at 16 Pell street, a foot from the famous tong bulletproof where tong wars were centered years ago, did not exist for Hong, and although it was the nearest entrance, he climbed the roof and entered by a back window by a secret opening; that by night, furtive groups of Chinamen assembled over the same roofs, all lowering themselves into the long headquarters, carrying bundles of money.

Today the detectives, stationed at strategic points on the roofs, watched while Dr. Carleton Simon, head of the narcotic division, William H. Williams, special treasury agent, and police officers went up the narrow hallway to the tong rooms.

The Poor Kiddies Expect Santa to Visit Them, Too

Yesterday was the first of December. And Tulsa, rising and looking out into the bright sunshine of a balmy day, tried to realize that another three weeks will bring Christmas.

The three weeks will speed by so quickly, and there will be so much to be done that it will be only natural that everyone be wrapped up in his own affairs in preparation. But to do that is not to really prepare for Christmas. For until one has given, with no thought except to make some one happy who cannot, in return, give you something for that thought, one does not really know Christmas.

And here is the Empty Stocking fund. The name of the first donor for 1922 is yet to be known. The slogan "Do it now," could not be better applied than here. The humane society, which handles the fund, is anxious that gifts be made as early in the month as possible in order that it may know just what it will have to work with. So this is a little bit of Christmas business that can be done quickly.

Contributions should be sent to the Empty Stocking fund, care of The Tulsa World.

Tulsa's greatest telephone number is Cedar 2626, Yellow Cabs—Advertisement.

'Coin' Harvey, of 1896 Fame, Urges Farmer-Labor Union To Adopt Dakota Bank Plan

Attacks Practice of Charging Interest on Money as "a Crime," Citing Bible for Authority and Warns Reconstructionists to Attend to Finances or Meet Defeat at Election.

By the Associated Press State Wire. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—Charging that the incoming state legislature provide for a state bank as contemplated by the state bank convention, W. H. 'Coin' Harvey of St. Louis, Ark., addressing the state convention of the farmer-labor union of America, here tonight warned that if the farmer-labor reconstruction league did not track the money question it would surely go down to defeat four years hence.

The farmer-labor reconstruction league, which is a national organization, declared, the speaker asserted the money powers were organizing to defeat the proposed state depository, which he characterized as the very heart and soul of the farmer-labor program enunciated by Governor-Elect J. C. Walton.

Deposits totaling upwards of $25 million are available from state funds and funds of subdivisions of the state, Harvey declared, this serving as a nucleus. He said that deposits should be paid in from sympathizers all over the nation and the revenue derived from such a bank might be used to pay all expenses of the state government.

The speaker, who held the spotlight during the presidential campaign of 1896 when Bryan and McKinley went before the people on the financial subject, said that such a bank should be patterned after that now in operation in North Dakota, with certain minor changes. No interest would be paid on deposits under this plan, and money would be loaned to farmers and others at perhaps a 4 per cent. Officers of the bank should qualify under a civil service examination, he said.

Harvey attacked the practice of charging interest on money as a crime once held akin to murder, citing Bible and other historical data to show contempt formerly held for those who practiced usury.

The government should take over the entire banking business, with a central bank in Washington and branch banks in the states, he declared. Oklahoma has an opportunity to blaze the way by establishing a state bank, Harvey said.

Harvey's question and other matters submitted to the committee on resolutions will be taken up by the convention tomorrow.

Special to the World. MALESTER, Dec. 1.—Demanding of the state senate a change in the election machinery of the state and accompanying this with a declaration that if it is not granted the matter will be taken to the people by referendum, the farmer-labor union today in state convention, put teeth into the fight which has been started against the present election organization. A resolution adopted by the committee on resolutions submitted, unanimously to the convention for acceptance, condemns the present secretary, W. C. McAllister and charges him with having used the power of his office to hamper the free expression at the ballot box.

Constitution Move Boosted. The movement for a new constitutional convention was given an impetus by the address of speakers who addressed the convention. Paul Nesbitt, who delivered the address of welcome, opened the discussion of this subject at the morning session, when he said: "I am of the opinion the time has come for another constitution. Not that the men who wrote our present constitution did not do off just above the mark. It is, for instance, the taxing problem. The question affects every property owner in the state. We have discovered that the federal court can come in and fix a tax rate and force you to pay your taxes close your schools and courts, and stop local government from functioning. There is only one way to get away from this. That is through a new constitution which will establish a new taxation system. Our present constitution is inadequate for handling these problems."

Other states have gotten around this by providing for a gross receipts tax to pay the expenses of government, replacing the ad valorem tax. We must add some such system to our constitution. There is our oil production tax. Not all oil men are satisfied with the tax, but they are all satisfied with the system. It should be applied to other corporations and industries.

Want It in 1923. "A constitutional convention should be called not later than November 1923, and I hope the convention will back up this proposition."

Vice President Wooten, in responding to the welcome address, expressed a plan for a new constitution. He voiced a grievance against the nonproducers, claiming that they should not be allowed to have a disproportionate representation in government affairs. According to Wooten, 38 per cent of people of the nation are producers, 44 per cent engaged in other gainful occupations, while 18 per cent "don't do anything but raise hell and take away what the rest make."

George Wilson was called upon by President J. B. Laughlin and reviewed the work which brought the various organizations together at Shawnee. He also related the history of the campaign and declared that the farm-labor union had delivered the vote necessary, both in the primary and general election, to win. He said his respects to the constitutional democrats and ventured the opinion that none of them would know the constitution "if they met it in the corner. They were parasites to be gotten rid of," he said.

Britton Fears Interests. Jack Britton, acting president of the mine workers, another invited speaker, said that organized labor had been opposed heretofore to a new constitutional convention, but that now it might be different if the proper amount of work is done. "The interests wanted it long ago," he asserted, "but we have always blocked it. If we can organize so the interests will not control the convention, then we will favor it."

He said organized labor has also been opposed to entering politics, but that the result of this campaign proved that it can be done with success, and that "this meeting and others like it must lay the foundation for permanent political action. The resolutions committee is continuing on page eight."

STATE STATUTES QUITE DEFICIENT FUSIONISTS FIND

Farm-Labor Convention at McAlester Wants Constitution Revised

WOULD GET M'ALESTER

Accuse Present Election Board Head of "Hampered" Ballot Box Expression

THEY BAR THE INTERESTS

Want Constitutional Convention in '23 Now, Since It Can Be Run Properly

Special to the World.

MALESTER, Dec. 1.—Demanding of the state senate a change in the election machinery of the state and accompanying this with a declaration that if it is not granted the matter will be taken to the people by referendum, the farmer-labor union today in state convention, put teeth into the fight which has been started against the present election organization. A resolution adopted by the committee on resolutions submitted, unanimously to the convention for acceptance, condemns the present secretary, W. C. McAllister and charges him with having used the power of his office to hamper the free expression at the ballot box.

Constitution Move Boosted. The movement for a new constitutional convention was given an impetus by the address of speakers who addressed the convention. Paul Nesbitt, who delivered the address of welcome, opened the discussion of this subject at the morning session, when he said: "I am of the opinion the time has come for another constitution. Not that the men who wrote our present constitution did not do off just above the mark. It is, for instance, the taxing problem. The question affects every property owner in the state. We have discovered that the federal court can come in and fix a tax rate and force you to pay your taxes close your schools and courts, and stop local government from functioning. There is only one way to get away from this. That is through a new constitution which will establish a new taxation system. Our present constitution is inadequate for handling these problems."

Other states have gotten around this by providing for a gross receipts tax to pay the expenses of government, replacing the ad valorem tax. We must add some such system to our constitution. There is our oil production tax. Not all oil men are satisfied with the tax, but they are all satisfied with the system. It should be applied to other corporations and industries.

Want It in 1923. "A constitutional convention should be called not later than November 1923, and I hope the convention will back up this proposition."

Vice President Wooten, in responding to the welcome address, expressed a plan for a new constitution. He voiced a grievance against the nonproducers, claiming that they should not be allowed to have a disproportionate representation in government affairs. According to Wooten, 38 per cent of people of the nation are producers, 44 per cent engaged in other gainful occupations, while 18 per cent "don't do anything but raise hell and take away what the rest make."

George Wilson was called upon by President J. B. Laughlin and reviewed the work which brought the various organizations together at Shawnee. He also related the history of the campaign and declared that the farm-labor union had delivered the vote necessary, both in the primary and general election, to win. He said his respects to the constitutional democrats and ventured the opinion that none of them would know the constitution "if they met it in the corner. They were parasites to be gotten rid of," he said.

Britton Fears Interests. Jack Britton, acting president of the mine workers, another invited speaker, said that organized labor had been opposed heretofore to a new constitutional convention, but that now it might be different if the proper amount of work is done. "The interests wanted it long ago," he asserted, "but we have always blocked it. If we can organize so the interests will not control the convention, then we will favor it."

He said organized labor has also been opposed to entering politics, but that the result of this campaign proved that it can be done with success, and that "this meeting and others like it must lay the foundation for permanent political action. The resolutions committee is continuing on page eight."

THE CURTAIN FALLS AT 6 TONIGHT

On the Want Ad Section of Sunday's Tulsa World. Positively no Want Ads taken after 6 tonight. Don't put off till 6 o'clock what you can do at 2. Phone your Ad in NOW.

Okla. State's Greatest Want Ad Medium

THE TULSA WORLD

Osage 6000

THE WEATHER

TULSA, Dec. 1.—Maximum 60; minimum 30. Partly cloudy.

OKLAHOMA, Saturday, partly cloudy, warm in north portion; Sunday fair.

KANSAS, generally fair Saturday and Sunday; somewhat warmer Sunday.

75 Years in Pen Judge's Sentence For Two Bandits

Youths Confess to Having Participated in Crimes About Kansas City, Missouri

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 1.—Harry Davis of St. Joseph, Mo., and Lyle Hughes of Lawrence, Kan., confessed bandits, were sentenced to 75 years in the Missouri penitentiary late today by Judge F. M. Lathshaw. The two youths pleaded guilty to first-degree robbery.

"You men have participated in horrible crimes of murder and your crimes should be sentenced heavily," Judge Lathshaw said. Davis previously had confessed to firing the shots which caused the death of Clement Mead, Kansas City, Kan., grocer, and Floyd Bahr, his 19-year-old nephew, Wednesday night.

The entering of pleas in Missouri took the youths out of the jurisdiction of the Kansas authorities. Their confessions enumerated 12 holdups and robberies committed in greater Kansas City recently.

BURIED HIS WIFE ALIVE, IS CHARGE

Taxicab Driver in Gotham Claimed Mother of 4 Children Ran Away

WOMAN DIED IN GRAVE

Medical Examiner Discovers Evidence of Woman's Fight Against Suffocation

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Abraham Becker, taxicab driver, was indicted today for the murder of his wife, Jennie, who, authorities believed, was buried alive in a quicklime filled grave from which her body was taken Wednesday.

The official theory that the woman was buried alive was formed after the report of Dr. Karl Kennard, assistant medical examiner to the district attorney, Doctor Kennard said that while she had been dealt a heavy blow on the head, it was of a nature that would have stunned her, and not ended her life.

Died in Grave, Belief. Her hands and feet had been bound and a coat had been placed over her face. The body had other evidences, he reported, that the woman had regained consciousness in the grave in a vacant lot and then fought against death.

Ruben Norkin, a welder, who led the district attorney to the grave and asserted Becker had told him she was buried there, was held in $100,000 bail as a material witness.

The physician said a painstaking examination disclosed that the murderer struck the woman, mother of four children, just once. The blow, he added, was not necessarily fatal, although sufficient to make her insensible.

Doctor Kennard said the position of the body when unearthed strongly supported his contention. The general arrangement of the limbs, he said, made it appear that Mrs. Becker had been struggling violently when death came.

Corpe Covered by Sack. The medical examiner said he had made a careful examination of the woman's nostrils for traces of dirt that would indicate suffocation had killed her. Although he found none, he pointed out that a gunny sack which had been fastened about the victim's head and shoulders would

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWELVE.

Just a Minute Please—

Did you know that you can buy The Tulsa World for less than 2c per copy, if you take advantage of our Annual Christmas Bargain Offer? For Mail Subscribers only — not good for Carrier Delivery. Better send in this coupon TODAY. This bargain offer closes Dec. 23.

CLIP AND MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY

Tulsa Daily World, Tulsa, Okla. Date.....

Enclosed find (check) (Money Order) for which send me the Tulsa World by mail for one year as per offer checked below:

☐ $5.85 Daily and Sunday Regular Rate $9.00. Name.....

☐ $4.85 Daily Only Regular Rate $7.00. F. R. D..... Box.....

☐ $1.95 Sunday Only Regular Rate $3.00. Postoffice.....

For Mail: Subscriptions Only—In Oklahoma, Southern Kansas, Southwest Missouri and Western Arkansas.

PROBE TO DECIDE STATE'S ATTITUDE IN 'RUM REVOLT'

Investigation Will Cover Every Angle of Case, Short's Man Says

REOPEN BOOZE CASES

King Files 26 Motions Seeking to Bring Dismissed Defendants Back to Trial

BONDSMEN TO BE AIRED

All Bail Security Will Be Checked for Irregularities, Too, State Man Says

Action seeking the suspension of County Attorney W. F. Seaver may follow his investigation of conditions in the county attorney's office, Clifford W. King, assistant state attorney-general, intimated late yesterday after a preliminary inquiry into the state of affairs at the court house.

King's announcement stated that he would start an investigation of Seaver's action, the result of which would decide whether the attorney-general's representative would move to have Seaver suspended from office.

Further than this his investigation would cover every angle of the situation arising here out of the dismissal of cases against accused violators of the liquor laws. King refused to disclose his probable course of action or the grounds upon which it might be based.

Reopens 26 Cases. This announcement followed the filing by King of 26 motions in county court which he seeks to reopen liquor cases dismissed by Seaver. Seaver, reached by telephone at his home last night, hung up the receiver when a World reporter attempted to inform him of the latest developments in King's investigations. Later the reporter visited the Seaver home, but failed to obtain any response after several rings.

King stated last night that his probe would not end with the liquor cases but that he was going to take a hand in everything. He stated that he had not had time to check up the booze cases dismissed in the district court, but that he would turn his attention to the higher court within the next day or so.

A General Check-up. Professional bondsmen will come in for their share of attention at the hands of King, it was stated. Several defendants turned up "a. w. o. l." and King said that he was going to look into every bond on file and if any of them looked phony or insufficient, he would make application for additional bond or have the defendants placed in jail.

King arrived in Tulsa Thursday night and immediately began laying the stage for his sweeping investigation. He spent most of Friday morning closeted with County Attorney Seaver, and announced after the conference that Seaver had given him access to all files and books in the office and permission to question all assistants and offered his aid in every possible way.

After the conference with King, Seaver stated that they had gone over the whole list of cases and that he had given the capitol city envoy run of the place.

"I do not feel a bit different about the whole affair now than I did last week or the week before. I have done nothing knowingly that is the least bit off color. Every case I have formed since 1920, office just 1 year and 11 months ago

CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT.

